

New York's Abortion Law: Are We Really Protected?

March 13, 2008
Judson Memorial Church
55 Washington Square South
New York, NY 10012
6:30 pm - 8:30 pm

Featuring
New York State Health
Commissioner
Richard F. Daines, M.D.

As federal protections of abortion access are weakened, New York's leading reproductive rights organizations have been asking this question. The Bush administration has filled the courts with ultra-conservative judges that have made devastating decisions regarding women's health. The Supreme Court's unprecedented move to uphold the federal abortion ban last April was a wake-up call that we must fight to ensure that New York continues to protect and respect a woman's ability to make private reproductive health care decisions.

On March 13, please join us and our distinguished panel to discuss where New York's law stands now and how we can ensure New York remains a beacon for women's health and safety.

Featured Speakers:

Richard F. Daines, M.D.

New York State Health Commissioner

Kelli Conlin

President, NARAL Pro-Choice New York

Galen Sherwin

Reproductive Rights Project Director, New York Civil Liberties Union

Gillian Dean, M.D.

Associate Medical Director of Clinical Research and Training,
Planned Parenthood of New York City

Reverend Dr. Donna Schaper

Senior Minister, Judson Memorial Church

*This event is co-sponsored by
NARAL Pro-choice New York,
Planned Parenthood of New York City
New York Civil Liberties Union
Judson Memorial Church
Reproductive Health Access Project
National Organization for Women NYC
Public Health Solutions*

To RSVP Go To WWW.PPNYC.Org